

To all ADMC members:

“Discover How to Maximize Your Spousal Partnership to Preserve Wealth, Protect Assets and Minimize Risk!”

The Dental Spouse Business Group (DSBG) is holding their inaugural annual conference September 16-18, 2010, in Las Vegas. Two of our ADMC members (Kathy Asted and Tim Twigg) are presenters.

The theme for this year’s conference is: “Discover How to Maximize Your Spousal Partnership to Preserve Wealth, Protect Assets and Minimize Risk!”

This meeting has great content, pertinent to the dentist and dental spouse and also provides a wonderful opportunity for sharing, and learning from, with other dentist/dental spouse partners.

The dental spouse often holds a unique set of responsibilities and challenges not experienced by other employees in the practice--regardless of whether the role is in the clinical area, the financial area or as the Practice Administrator.

If you have clients where the spouse is actively involved in the practice (or considering getting involved), recommend this meeting to them. Think of the value of networking with other dentist/spouse partners, comparing situations and challenges, and having great resources from which to draw.

Conference registration fees are:

Non DSBG Members	DSBG Members
Dentist and Dental Spouse/Partner (before 7/31) $995	$795
Dentist and Dental Spouse/Partner (after 7/31) $995	$895
Dentist or Spouse only (before 7/31) $795	$595
Dentist or Spouse only (after 7/31) $795	$695

DSBG has extended special pricing for ADMC member clients. Have your clients use the attached registration form and save $100 off of off of the “DSBG Members” registration fee.

For ADMC member clients, DSBG will also extend a 1-year complimentary membership in DSBG! This means an overall savings of around $300 for ADMC member clients. That’s a great conference, $100 off registration and a 12-month complimentary membership. Wow, what a value. Wow, what an opportunity. And don’t forget, Las Vegas!

DSBG was founded as a professional business community to empower the dentist/dental spouse partnership. The organization is an educational and supportive resource for the dentist and dental spouse, and represents a great forum for clarifying questions like:

- What position do I assume?
- How do I/we really make this “partnership” work?

- What do I need to know?
- Who's the boss, really?
- What strengths do I bring to the practice?
- How do I/we delineate job roles?
- How do other spouse/partnerships discuss and handle sensitive issues?

DPBG's Mission is:

"The Dental Spouse Business Group (DSBG) is an international organization for Dental Spouses who are active or want an active role in the business of dentistry.

DSBG is the only professional business community for Dental Spouses. We understand the challenges Dental Spouses experience and commit our resources to their personal and professional success.

DSBG members receive Dental Spouse specific continuing education, exclusive opportunities to share resources, exchange ideas and network with others in the unique and important role of Dental Spouse."

For more information about the organization, visit their website: www.dentalspouse.com

